Special express issue call

As an experiment in express publication, the Journal of the Society for Information Display is organizing a special express issue consisting of shorter papers with an accelerated publication schedule. Short papers (5 pages of text maximum, figures and references can be additional); authors will be notified within 2 weeks of the deadline for express online publication, and papers accepted without revision will be available online within 4 weeks of the deadline. A special committee of experts across the display field has been convened as reviewers for this issue.

Topics across the scope of JSID are welcome, including work in human factors, standards, emissive displays, spatial light modulators, new devices, machine interfaces, color science, and lighting.

Authors are invited to submit manuscripts online in electronic files to the JSID at:

<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/sid>

Authors submitting their manuscript must identify their manuscripts as being submitted for the Special Section by selecting “Special Section Paper” as the paper type. The Information for Authors document provides a complete set of guidelines and requirements required for the preparation and submission of a manuscript, including a discussion of the formatting requirements and the journal page charge policy.

The deadline for the submission of manuscripts is January 15, 2015.

Please direct any questions about this special issue to Ioannis Kymissis, the editor of JSID at editor@sid.org.
